

flavoured health licks

A horse or pony's biology is similar to our own. So the feeding of treats to a horse such as sugar or molasses can lead to an overweight animal. Just as a child might relish sweets or chocolates a pony may savour sweet treats. These may not necessarily be good for them, as Veterinary Experts agree that problems such as laminitis can result when horses are overfed.

Rockies Health Licks offer you a wise choice alternative. Primarily containing essential salt and other vital minerals and trace elements, they can help replace the missing goodness that is crucial to maintaining a healthy horse. Use them all year round - but especially during the hotter summer months.
